Women of the Founding Era: Crowdsourcing a Digital Edition

Susan H. Perdue, Documents Compass, Virginia Foundation for the Humanities

Introduction

Women of the Founding Era is the first born-digital edition of the leading women of the Founding Era, 1750-1820.

3,000 documents (letters, diaries, and writings) will be transcribed using crowdsourced labor.

Platform

The project archive will be built in Omeka which is a free, flexible, and open source web-publishing platform.

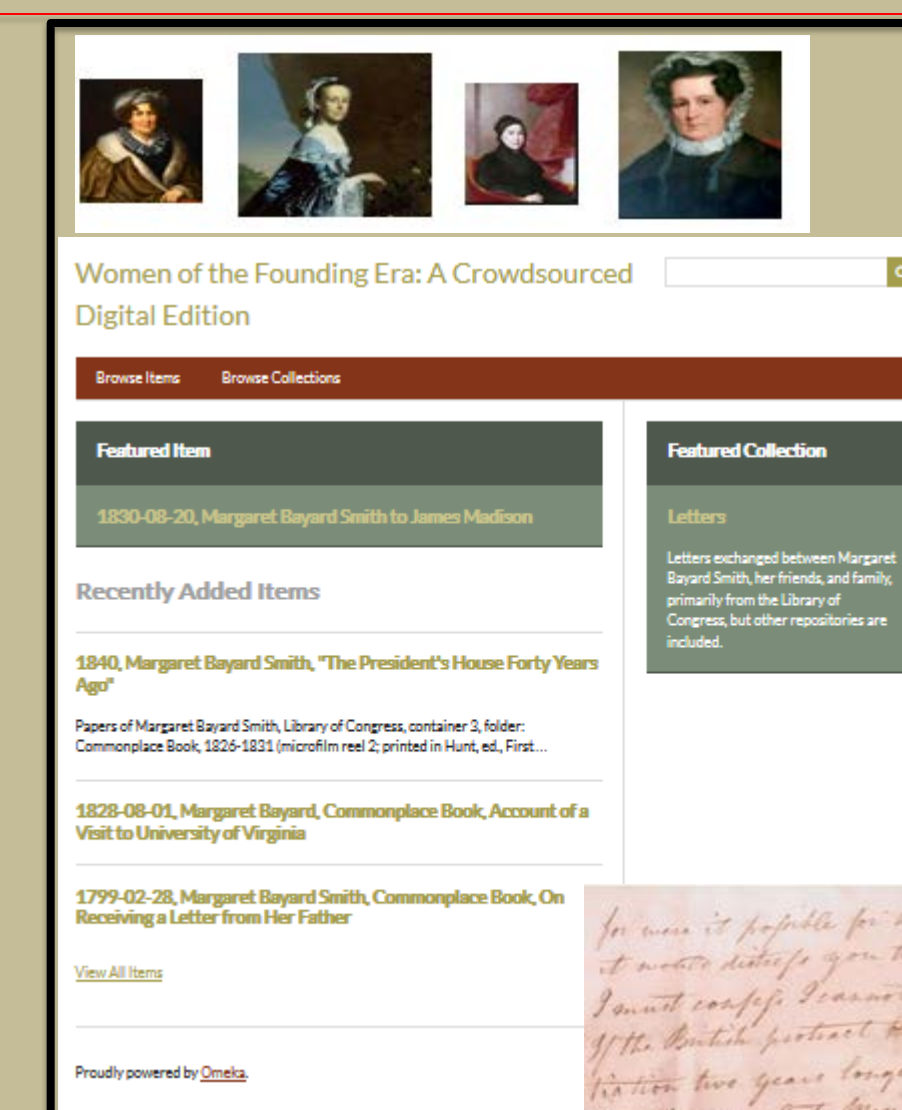

Omeka is widely adopted and has a growing user community, including:

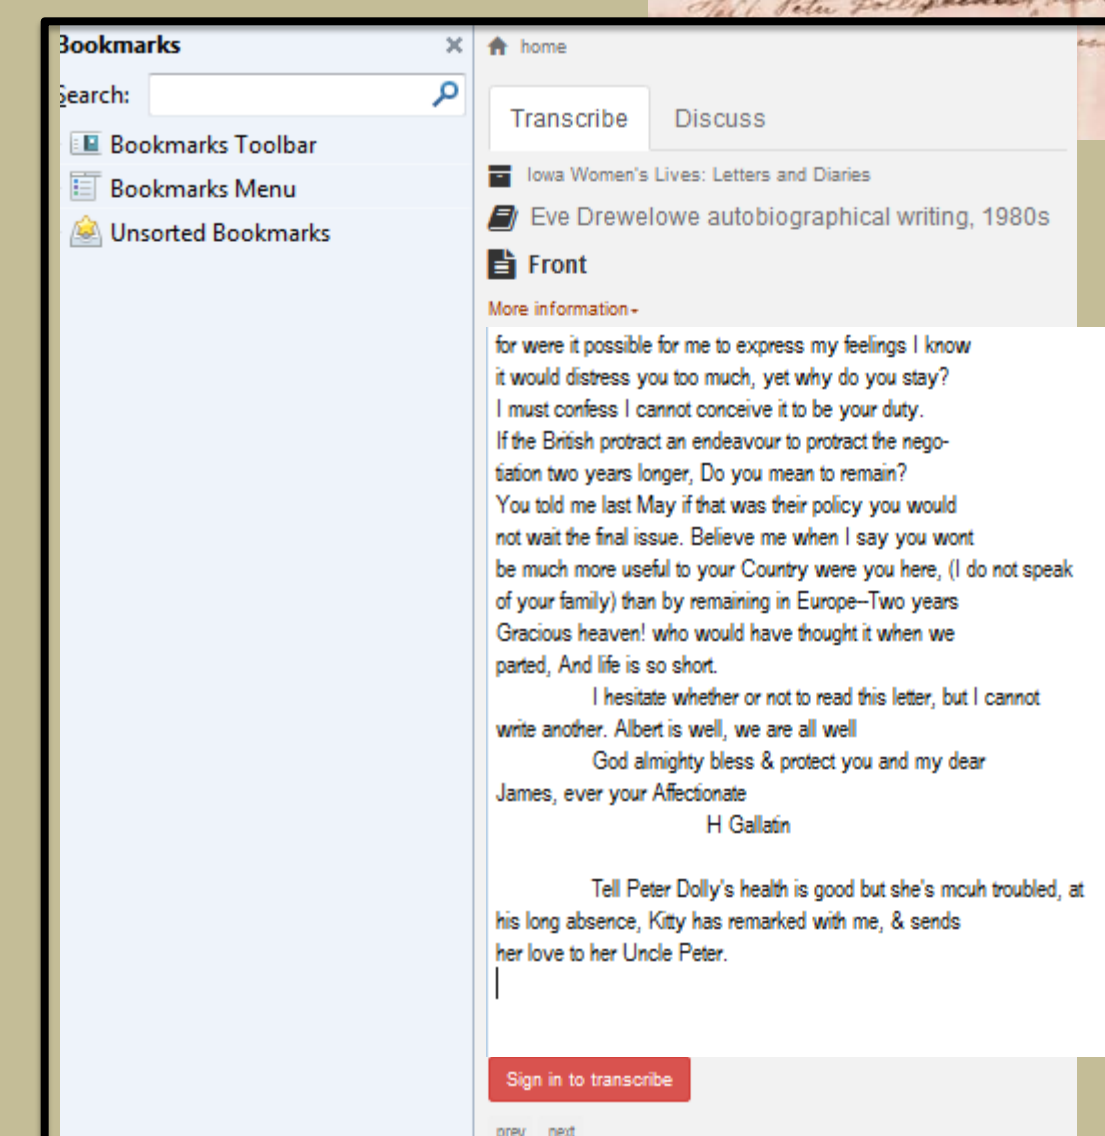

This project will bring together the dispersed writings of each person in the cohort to form a single “virtual” collection highlighting connections between them.

TRANSCRIPTION PANE

Transcribers create an account and select documents for transcription using Scripto, an open source plug-in in Omeka

ENGAGEMENT PANE

Transcribers will select the topic that best describes the subject of this document, These might include

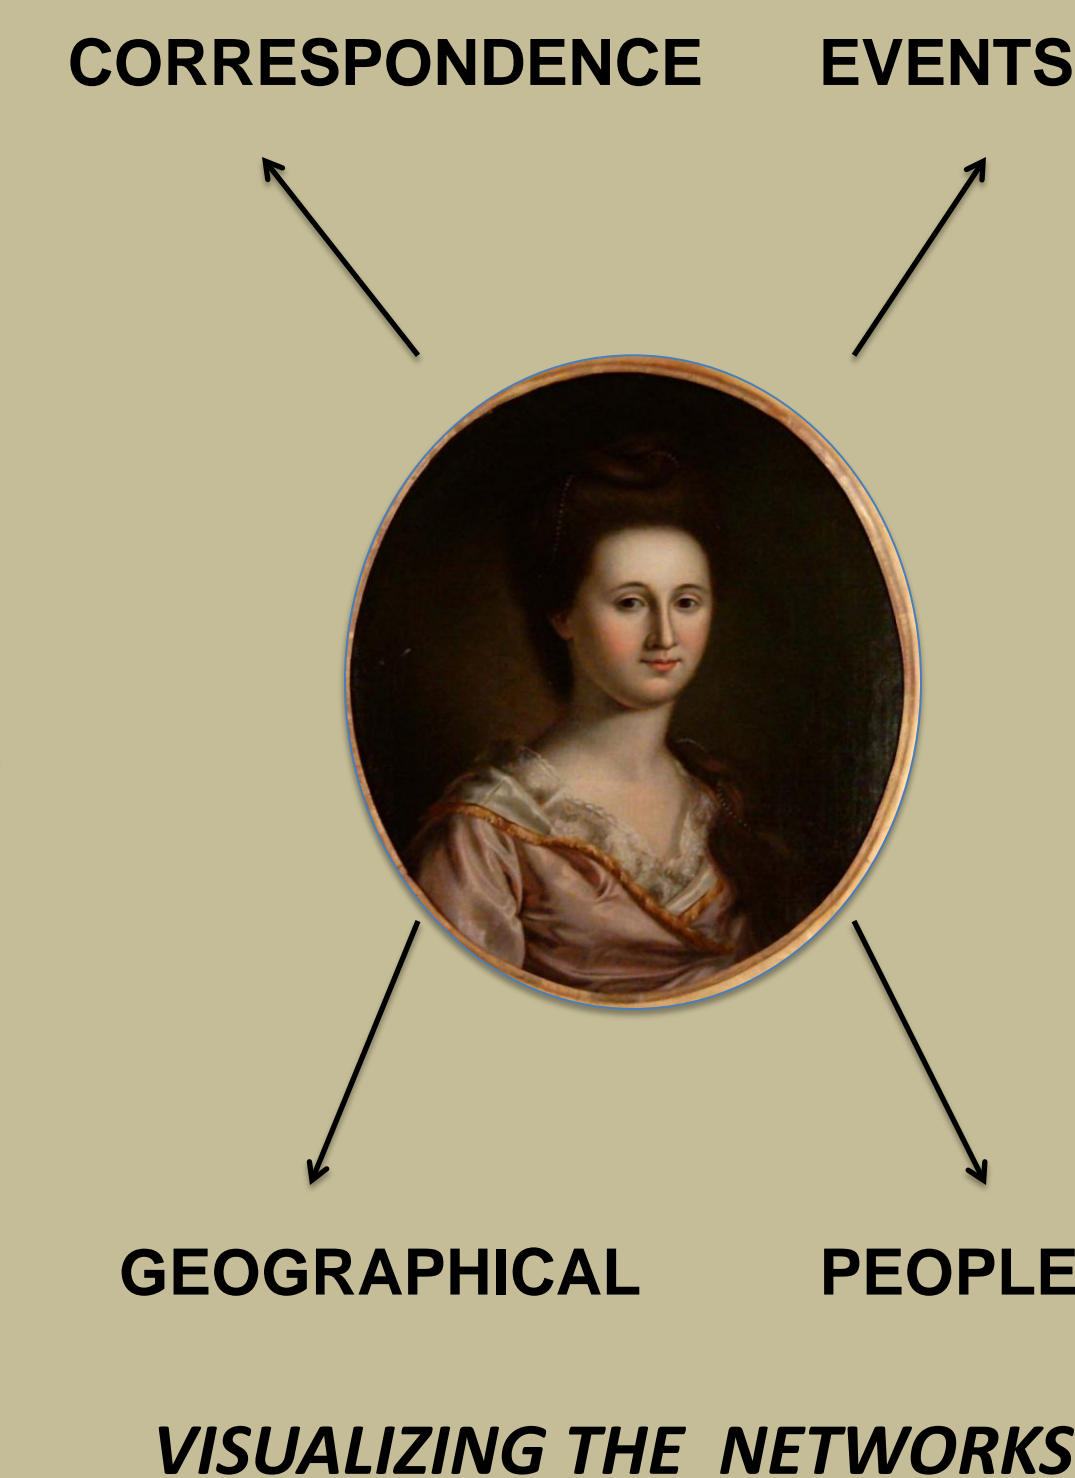

War of 1812
Treaty of Ghent
Albert Gallatin
Letters between husband and wife

Who else is mentioned in this document?
Are there other letters from this person
not included in Women of the Founding Era?

QUALITY ASSURANCE

Each document will be vetted and reviewed by editors and resulting in an official version that will be locked to further changes but returned for use in the archive.

Future women to be included are
Anne Willing Bingham, Angelica Schuyler Church, Sarah Bowdoin Dearborn, Esther DeBerdt Reed, and Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton

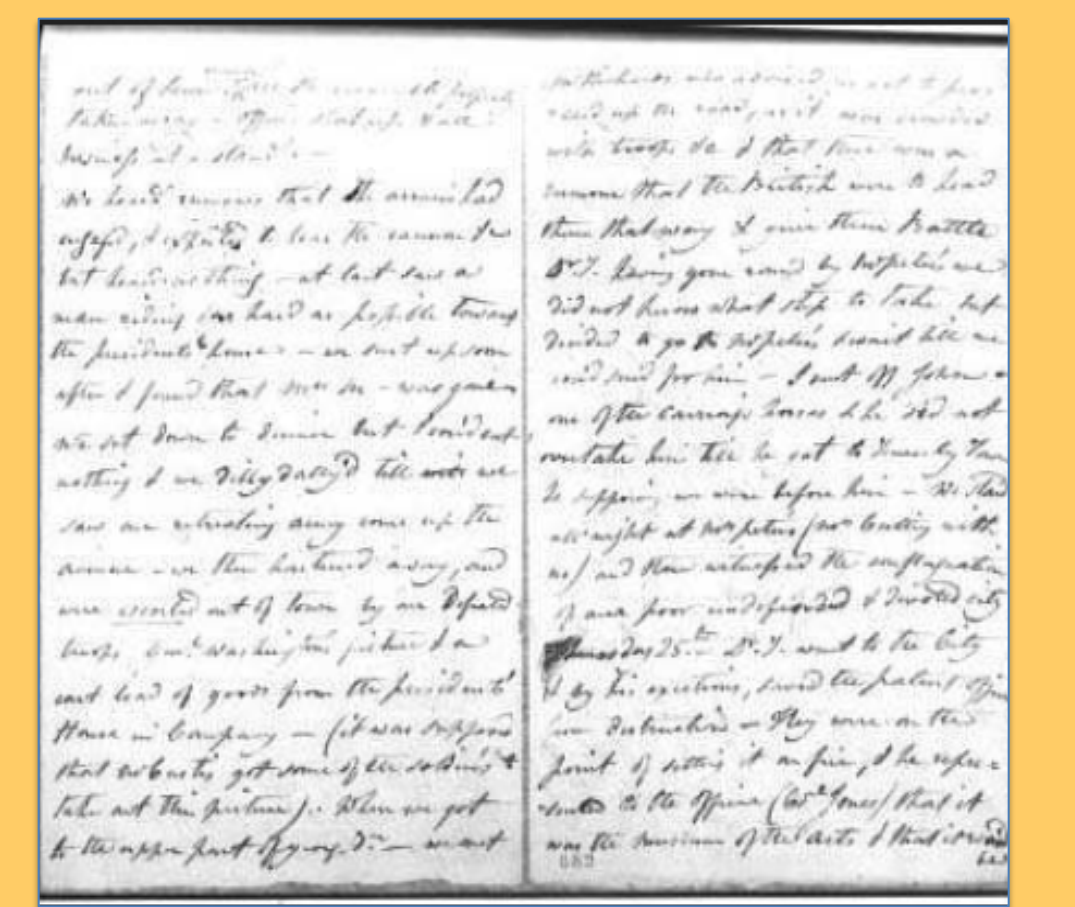

Project Outcomes:

Engage a new audience in women of the period and their writings

3,000 documents made available in the first two years—more to be added as the project expands

White Paper on crowdsourcing

Cost benefit analysis of using the crowd to create first pass transcriptions for a scholarly edition
